Council Orders Bond Election For Mar. 16:

MAJORITY OF FREEHOLDERS PETITION ALDERMEN TO ORDER IT

MANAGERS NAMED

Aldermen Fixed Polling Places-Named Election Managers and Aranged Other Details.

A majority of the freeholders of the city of Anderson having petitioned city council to order an election on the question of issuing bonds not exceeding $100,000 for street paving purposes, the board of aldermen met yes-terday afternoon at 6 o'clock, in special session, and, after canvassing the signatures attached to the petition and estisfying themselves that everything was proper, adopted an ordinance pro-yiding for the holding of the election on Tuesday, March 16. Having disposed of this matter, council then went about arranging de-tails of the election, such as fixing polling places, naming election managers, providing for the opening of reg-istration books and a opting an ordihance delegating to the recently ap-pointed paving commission full power to expend the process of the proposed

The story of the council meeting is pest told in the minutes of the session, which were prepared immediately after the meeting and approved. The minutes read as follows:

The mayor presented to the city council; section of freeholders of the city, requesting the city council to order a special election in said city on substantially the following question: Substantially the following question:
Shall the city of Anderen issue bonds in the sum of not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, the proceeds thereofs to be used solely for the permanent improvement of pablic streets, or parts of same, in said city, where one-half the cost of such improvements is paid by abutting property owners?

The city clerk and treasurer reported that he had carefully compared the signatures on said pelition with the names of the freeholders of said city appearing on the city's tax books and that the present these than present these than present these than the company of these than the company of the company o substantially that the act should not be operative in the city of Anderson until approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the city voting on the question of its approval.

At the request of Alderman Carter. City Attorney Sullivan read a proposical ordinance ordering the question of the approval of said act to be submitted ordered voted on separately at the state of the city candinance, Alderman Dobbins moved that any and all relies of the city council relating to the passage of ordinances be and the same are hereby suspended, and that the ordinance as read by the city attorney be and the aspect of the city candinance is read by the city attorney be and the aspect of the city attorney be and the mation and it was unaniprously adopted.

If they consider themselves justified in destroying by bombardment the lives and property of peaceful civil inhabitants of English open towns and watering places and in seizing and sinking ships and cargoes of conditional contraband on their way thither, on the ground that they are consigned to a fortified place or base, a fortiori liis Majesty's government must be at liberty to treat Hamburg which is in part protected by fortifications at the mouth of the Elbe, as a fortified town and base of operations, and supply for the pur-poses of aritcle 34 of the Declaration of London.

"If the owners of the cargo of the Wilhelmina desire to question the validity in international law of the action taken by order of His Majesty's government they will have every op-portunity of establishing their case in due course before the prize court, and His Majesty's government would in this connection recall the atten-tion of the United States to the con-siderations put forward in Sir Ed-ward Grey's note to Mr. Page of the 10th instant, as to the property of awaiting the result of the prize court proceedings before diplomatic action is initiated. It will be remembered that they have from the outset given definite assurances that the owners of the Wilhelmina as well as the owners of her cargo, if found to be contra-band, would be equitably indemnified. "There is one further observation to which His Majesty's government thinks it right and appropriate in the present connection to give expression. They have not so far declared foodstuffs to be absolute contraband; they have not interferred with any neutral vessels on account of their carrying signatures on said petition with the names of the freeholders of said city appearing on the city sax books and that the names of more than a majority of the freeholders of the city as shown by its tax books appeared on the petition asking for said election.

The petition was then, upon motion of Alderman King duly made and passed, ordered to be formally received and examined by the city council.

After examination of the petition and upon motion of Alderman Spearman, the sity council formally declared that it had received a petition from a majority of the freeholders of the city, as shown by its tax books, asking the city council to order a special leation the question mentioned mentioned above and appearing in said patition.

"Further steps in the same direction are now an runged and in fact already have been taken by Germany. British merchant vessels have been torpedeed at sight without any attempt being made to give warning to the crew or any coportunity being given to save their lives. A torpede has been fire/ against a British hospital ship in daylight, and similar treatment is they attend to all British merchant vessels in the future as well as to any neutral ships that may happen to be found in the neighborhood of the British fales.

"Faced with this situation, His Malesty's government considers it would be altogether unreasonable that Great British and her allies should be expected to remain indefinitely bound to their grave deriment, by rules and principles of which they recognize the justice if impartially observed as between belligerents, but which are at the present un/ment openly set at fredance by their enemy.

"If therefore, His Majesty's government should hereafter feel constrained to declare foodstuffs absolute contraband or take other measures for interfering with German trade by war of reurgials, they confidently expect that such action and usages or war whose validity rests on their forming an integral part of that system of international doctrine which, as a whole, their enemy trankly beasts the libearty and intention to disregard, so long as such neutral States by appeals to laws and usages or war whose validity rests on their forming an integral part of that system of international doctrine which, as a whole, their enemy trankly beasts the libearty and intention to disregard, so long as such neutral State cannot compel the German government to shandon methods of warfare which have not in recent history been regarded as having the sanction of either law or humanity."

(By Associated Press.) WAELINGTON, Feb. 19 .- How President Wilson broke another precedent by paying a quiet visit to Speaker Champ Clark at his home one night last week came to light today.

It was on the night of February 10 when the ship purchase bill fight was at its height After a long series of conferences with Democratic leadof conferences with Democratic lead-ers the president was undecided whether it would be better to continue the fight in the senate or to transfer it to the house. He promptly determined to talk it over with the creaker; a telephone message developed that the speaker was at home, and a few minutes later an automobile had carried the president to the Clark home.

The conference lasted an hour, and

The position of the United States in its co. simunication to Germany was amplified to some extent today by the administration officials, who insisted that the use of submarines which Germany claimed made it unsafe at times to approach a merchantman for fear of retailatory fire, was not an excuse, in their opinion, for summhary attack on a ship filying neutral flag.

As for the possible destruction of vessels by mines strown indiscriminately, officials were inclined to admit the helplessness of neutral vessels venturing in the war sones. If mines are laid, some notification to this effect for shippers is expected to be received from Germany.
